Our Vision – Our Guiding Statements

At Thomas Mitchell, we have a set of statements that provide a basis for the way our school operates and interacts with our students, families and the community. Parents visiting the school would see “Our Vision” posters in all classrooms and elsewhere in the school. Beside the “Our Vision” posters you will see posters displaying the “3C’s” — Caring, Connected and Courageous. These 3 words are the student’s version of “Our Vision” statements. A copy of both these posters is included with this newsletter. Talk to your children about the posters. We would welcome any comments you have.

National Young Leaders Day

On Wednesday 2nd March, our School Captains attended the National Young Leaders Day at the Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre. It was a gathering of school leaders from across the state and was a wonderful opportunity to hear speakers from a variety of different countries and backgrounds. All of the speakers shared the challenges and rewards of being a leader. Their simple but effective message was to ‘master the little’. Change does not need to be universal or overly ambitious, instead it can be a series of smaller steps that add up to something important.

Attending on the day were: Emily, Samir, Amelie, Abel, Snezana, Mitch, Mia, Jayden, Amitha, Nathan, Lily-Rose and Ryan.

A big thank-you to our parent helper on the day – Michelle Altundal.

Mark Reid
Assistant Principal

All of the school leaders sat and listened to a range of inspirational and motivating speakers. The first four talked about their personal experiences and their advice about how we can improve our leadership skills. The speakers were:

Nathan ‘Dubsy’ Want – Youth Speaker
Dylan Parker – Paper Pilot
Harry Baker – Writer/World Poetry Slam Champion
Kate Austin – Founder, Pinchapoo

They all had inspirational quotes and some of them were:
‘just because you have a gym card doesn’t mean you are fit!’
‘small things can add up to big things’.
‘just because something is said to be proven, it doesn’t mean it is true.’
‘believe and succeed’
‘just because things are difficult, it doesn’t mean that you can’t achieve your dreams’

All of the speakers were fascinating and their main advice was to ‘master the little’. We had a great time and hope that you can master the little too!

21 MARCH
Our Health Centre has seen a few children experiencing vomiting and abdominal cramps over the past couple of days. Children need to be comfortable and pain free in order to learn and enjoy their day. If your child experiences vomiting or diarrhoea at home, please allow them to rest comfortably and recover at home.

Gastroenteritis can be one of many diseases of the gastrointestinal system. It is therefore important to recognise the symptoms of Gastroenteritis.

GASTROENTERITIS STOMACH FLU
Gastroenteritis is a bowel infection which causes diarrhoea (runny, watery poo) and sometimes vomiting. The diarrhoea can last up to 10 days. Gastroenteritis can spread easily.

POSSIBLE CAUSES
Most common cause is a virus or bacteria that infect the bowel. Viral infections tend to go away quickly, while bacterial infections may need antibiotic treatment.

TRANSMISSION (how is gastro spread?)
- Particles of the virus or bacteria from contaminated faeces and vomit can transfer onto the hands and reach the mouth and enter there. E.g. not washing hands after using the toilet, or poor hygiene when preparing or eating food.
- Particles from toilets flushing or from surfaces that hands then touch such as toilet seats, flush buttons, toilet door handles become a vehicle for gastroenteritis to spread.
- Eating or drinking contaminated food or water.

CLINICAL FEATURES (signs and symptoms)
- Vomiting
- Watery diarrhoea
- Tummy pain
- More severe pain, and blood or mucus with the diarrhoea, may suggest that the gastro is caused by bacteria (often linked to food poisoning)
- Fever and sore throat may be present
- Dehydration
- Body aches

ILLNESS DURATION
Gastro usually lasts for 3-4 days. It may take a week or so for bowel motions to return to normal.

HOW TO PREVENT THE SPREAD
- Teach everyone in your family to wash hands regularly, especially after they use the toilet and before they eat.
- Wash hands with warm soapy water.
- Do not handle raw and cooked foods with the same implements (tongs, knives, cutting boards), unless they have been thoroughly washed between uses.
TAKING CARE OF YOUR CHILD AT HOME

Gastroenteritis can cause DEHYDRATION

Children with gastroenteritis must keep drinking even if the diarrhoea seems to get worse. Frequent vomiting and runny poos means your child may be losing a lot of fluid. Lost fluid must be replaced with suitable fluids.

- It is preferable to give oral rehydration solutions such as Gastrolyte or Hydrolyte (available from chemists). These are specially formulated to replace lost fluid rapidly. These are designed to replace sugars and salts lost during an episode of gastroenteritis.
- Make sure your child drinks clear fluids – these include diluted juice or cordial, you could even try icy poles if your child is struggling to drink.
- Your child will need extra fluids to replace the fluids lost by diarrhoea and vomiting.
- Medicines to stop vomiting and diarrhoea are usually not helpful and can cause other problems in children.
- Start offering easily digested foods (ie; bananas, rice or toast) as soon as the vomiting stops.
- Avoid dairy products and sugary foods which may irritate digestion.
- Make sure your child gets lots of rest.
- Place a hot water bottle or wheat bag on your child’s tummy or run a warm bath.

WHEN TO SEE YOUR DOCTOR

- As a general rule, if the child looks very ill in addition to being in pain, medical help should be sought.
- If there is a lot of diarrhoea (8-10 watery poos).
- If your child is vomiting often and not able to keep any fluids down.
- If your child seems dehydrated – not passing urine, pale, has sunken eyes, cold hands and feet, is drowsy or irritable, has dry mouth and tongue.
- If your child develops severe abdominal pain.
- If there’s blood in your child’s poo.
- If your child’s vomit is a green colour.

SCHOOL EXCLUSION Please exclude your child from school until there has not been a loose bowel motion for 24 hours
